

Consolidation of media ownership is a threat to freedom of information in this country.

When only 5 corporations control most of the media in the country, they will also control the free flow of information. A democracy cannot survive when the media is controlled by just a few individuals who can choose what is heard and what is not heard in the media.